Event organisers of the Chevron City to Surf for Activ are thrilled to announce Channel Nine's Louise Momber as the 2011 Volunteers Ambassador.

The Chevron City to Surf for Activ is not only Western Australia's largest community sporting event, it is also the largest volunteering event in the state. Over 1000 generous volunteers are expected to ensure the event runs smoothly in 2011.

Louise Momber is a popular Channel Nine news reader and has been involved in the Perth City to Surf for Activ over the past four years.

Ms Momber said she was very excited to be announced as the Volunteer Ambassador for 2011.

"I encourage everyone to sign up to be a volunteer at the 2011 Chevron City to Surf for Activ because every job is important and the roll our volunteers play is vital to making the day a success," she said.

This event is one of WA's most popular, with a strong focus on bringing the community together to raise money for WA charities as well as the partner charity, Activ.

Volunteer Coordinator, Brianna Slate, said it was great to see so many people getting involved in the community and dedicating their time to a worthy cause each year.

"Volunteering at the Chevron City to Surf for Activ is a great way to get out, get involved in the community and have fun by doing it alongside family and friends.

"This year we are looking for as many people as possible to jump on board and volunteer at this year's event," Ms Slate said.

Event organisers are working closely with Volunteer Sponsor, the Department of Sport and Recreation, to successfully recruit the required number of volunteers.

Through this partnership, 2011 will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the International Year of Volunteers and will see the launch of a new campaign – "Where's Volley?"
